Today, we are learning to write words that contain
tch saying /ch/.

Sam had managed to make everyone invisible so that they could not be seen by Patch. “See, we told you that you are a powerful witch and a mighty wizard,” said Hansel.

“I wonder what else we can do,” Kit said to Sam.

"Now that we are invisible, why don't we go and have a look inside the gingerbread house?" suggested Gretel.

"Good plan," said Sam. "We'll have to be very quiet!"

Silently, they crept to the front door.

The children sneaked inside the cottage and had a look around. "It is just like I remember it," said Gretel, shivering. They found Patch in the kitchen, leaning on her crutch, about to strike a match and light a big fire underneath her cauldron.

Patch is doing a spell. Can you fill in the missing letters to find out what she is adding to the cauldron?

Hint: They are all tch words.

This makes a great whiteboard activity!

Patch needs to add some more ingredients to complete her spell. Write the words for the following pictures. Only add the objects that contain tch to the spell.

Check

The cauldron bubbled and spat and steam began to rise out of it. Patch clutched her crutch in anticipation, as the steam began to form a picture.

Just as the steam was about to reveal where they were, Kit whispered under his breath, “Cauldron twitch, cauldron spill, with this potion make the kitchen fill.”

Sentence Time

As the children are escaping, Sam notices something unusual. Look at the picture and write a sentence to match.

The crutch is glowing.
It must be magic!

Once they were safely back outside, Sam explained to the others what she had seen. “I think she gets her power from her crutch,” said Sam. “If we can switch it for a non-magical crutch, I think she will be a lot less powerful.”

Today, we have learnt...
